

HOSPITAL NURSE ROUTES ROBBER WITH REVOLVER

Steady Nerve of Superintendent of the Hayswood Hospital Puts Robber Discovered in Her Room Friday Night to Flight.

Miss Frances Cochran, displaying unusually steady nerve, drove a robber from her room at Hayswood Hospital early Friday evening and probably wounded the intruder as he left the room through a window. Through the harrowing experience Miss Cochran was enabled to hold her nerve and is able to give the police a splendid description of the man which may lead to his arrest.

Miss Cochran, who is superintendent of the local hospital, retired early and at about 9 o'clock was awakened by a noise in her room. She quietly switched on the electric lights and saw across the room at her dressing table, a young man ransacking the drawer in which she had placed her jewels. The flashing on so suddenly of the lights caused the robber to turn about facing Miss Cochran and start toward her. She drew a revolver and snapped it but it did not discharge. This stopped the thief and he started rapidly toward a window, through which he had entered the room. Again she snapped the revolver and it discharged. As the thief started through the window, he grabbed his right arm with his left hand as if he had been shot and the young lady is of the opinion that she wounded him.

The matter was reported to the police and Miss Cochran described the intruder as a young man about 25 years of age weighing about 120 to 130 pounds, with small dark eyes, and wearing a blue suit and a dark soft hat pulled down all around. With this description, the police may be enabled to locate the man. Miss Cochran says she does not remember ever having seen the man before but would be enabled to identify him were he captured.

Nothing was taken from the room. It is thought by the police that the thief had figured that early in the evening was a good time to get into the rooms of the nurses at the hospital, thinking they were engaged in other parts of the hospital and not suspecting that they would retire so early in the evening.

SIX ARRESTED IN INVESTIGATION OF TYRONE WHISKY CASE

Farmer Living Near Distillery, Former Lexington Policeman and Others Are Taken in Charge By Dry Officials.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 17. — Arrests in the investigation of federal prohibition officers and police into the robbery December 8 of the T. P. Riply distillery at Tyrone, last night totaled six, when warrants were served on two more men charged with the robbery.

Those arrested thus far are: H. V. Lowen, Anderson county, a farmer living near the distillery.
Andy J. Settle, machinist, who said he is a resident of Covington.
H. C. Fulin, truck driver, who lives at a lodging house on East Main street.
W. J. Wilson, 234 South Upper street, real estate dealer.

J. W. Drake, proprietor of Drake Brothers' cafe on South Mill street.
Lawrence Piercy, former Lexington policeman.

The first two named were arrested last night, Fulin earlier in the day, Wilson after midnight Thursday night, Drake Thursday night, and Piercy was released Tuesday on $5,000 bond. Settle last night was released on a $2,000 bond signed by J. M. Stapp. Lowen was unable to furnish the $3,000 bond set for him and spent the night in the county jail.

Prohibition officers last night went to Tyrone to serve a warrant on Wallace Gruffy a farmer living near there, but were unable to locate him. Other warrants also have been issued. Gruffy is a distant kinsman of Sheriff Emmett Gruffy, of Anderson county, charged with receiving liquor from the Belle of Anderson distillery. All are charged with breaking into a bonded warehouse and removing whisky, aiding and abetting in a conspiracy to defraud the government and violate the national prohibition law.

IRISH PARLIAMENT PLEGGED IN TREATY

Deadlock Is Broken and Public Meeting for Ratification of Treaty Is Announced for Monday.

Dublin, Dec. 17. — A majority of the Dail Eireann has agreed tentatively to ratify the Anglo-Irish treaty, a reliable authority asserted today. A vote probably will be taken Monday.

Arthur Griffith and Eamonn de Valera, heads of the opposing factions in the Dail, issued a joint manifesto last night, announcing a public session Monday and urging the people to be patient and orderly.

A second statement denounced recent murders of police in Irish cities. An alternative treaty was introduced in the Dail to replace the one signed by Griffith and Michael Collins, it was learned today. Its author, De Valera, was forced to withdraw it. A secret session of the Dail was called for today.

LEXINGTON SECOND DAY AVERAGE IS $20.64.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 17. — Offerings of good grades of burley were steady the second day of the sales at the Jewell warehouse yesterday, when 115,195 pounds sold for an average of $20.64.

The corrected average for the first day's sales, when a total of 140,385 pounds were sold, was $26.84. Yesterday several hundred pounds of last year's crop were sold for from one and one-half to four cents a pound, and no fancy grades of this year's crop were offered, accounting for the lower average, according to John B. Jewell, the manager.

Mr. B. O. Pickett, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, is reported as improving satisfactorily.

BOOTLEGGERS ARE SUSPECTED IN THE PERMIT CASES

New York Prohibition Director Says Firms to Whom Shipments Were Made Were Not in Liquor Business.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Dec. 17. — Charges that permits bearing his name were fraudulent, that persons to whom liquor was supposed to have been shipped were not engaged in the liquor business and that the liquor was diverted to bootleggers were made by E. C. Yellowley, New York prohibition director, according to a dispatch Saturday.

Yellowley was informed of the arrest of Samuel Freedman, president of Old 76 Distilling Co., Newport, L. H. Odenthal, superintendent, and Ed H. Gosney, clerk. They are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government by shipping liquor on forged permits.

Samuel Collins, Kentucky director, alleged the name "Collins" on the permits was forged.

According to report, 500 cases of whisky were removed on the permits December 5.

Freedman's attorneys say they will show at a hearing Thursday the permits were received in the mail the same as others, that they appeared to be genuine and that there was no reason to believe they were not what they purported to be.

OUR POLICY:

And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

POPULAR APPROVAL OF CONFERENCE RESULTS.

Attention is called by those who would blow hot and cold alternately on the armament conference proceedings that all the accomplishments registered are the result of secret negotiation. That even the signing of the four-power pact was done in executive session. That is true. It is also true that the American idea of the conference has been and is the opener the better. Yet in the situation the public, while still holding to its faith in public diplomacy, finds the results as reported so satisfactory as to feel fully assured that the conference is approaching all subjects and canvassing all questions in the most statesmanlike and unselfish spirit. It is in the cordial manifestation of faith in each other among the delegates that the people rest their hope for the real benefits of the councils.

There is no indication that anything is being done under cover that has sinister claim to secrecy. The foreign delegations of necessity have to keep in constant communication with their home offices. It is recognized that pending these communications, which in most instances determine the approval or disapproval of certain details, a proper expediency justifies—even in many instances demands—that the confidential relations of the delegations be respected. So far surface indications point to an immediate publication upon arrival at conclusions. And so far those conclusions have been sound, so full of promise of wise world adjustment that they have been accepted as aurip of an altogether satisfactory ultimate.

That being the case, it is not well to be captious in the matter of programs relating to details. Furthermore, while negotiations in committees have not been in public meetings, the press has refused to be kept very deeply in the dark as to what was being done, and has in turn seen to it that the people were reasonably well informed on developments. Not all will agree in all points touching the conference methods or accomplishments. Yet it is the testimony of popular expression that its work so far done is beyond expectation excellent and the promise of the finished whole encouraging in the highest degree.

In short, that which the conference has completed is approved by the people most cordially. That which it yet projects is accepted by the people most confidently.

GOVERNMENT IMPROVEMENT OF COMMUNITY CENTERS.

Brother Simeon Fess, of the National House of Representatives, is preparing to be an unprogressive "Watch dog of the Treasury." Listen to his pronouncement:

"Now that national government expenses are being heavily reduced, let us nail the freak bills that will be introduced to eat up the saving."

Sounds very careful and patriotic, doesn't it? But the truth is that Brother Fess refers to bills that are intended to help masses of the people of whom the government never before thought of doing anything except to govern them and tax them. For instance, the government is building a lot of public roads. We have no doubt at all that some congressmen will introduce a bill providing that where the nation is building a paved street, it shall also pave, as part of the same project, a few extra cross streets wherever the work passes through a community center—that is, a small town. And if the bill is any good at all, it will provide that the government, at its own expense, shall put in storm sewers before the pavement is laid, and extend those sewers to the farms in good time.

Brother Fess would immediately denounce that bill as a "freak," but in truth it is pure common sense. If pavements are laid through the open country, the farmer who drives on them should not find mud streets at the end of his drive in the country town. If he finds a few well paved cross streets in the village, he will come often and nothing will be better for the farmer, his wife and his sons and daughters than to visit the nearby town often. It will mean for them entertainment, friendship, extension of education and more prosperity in their business. All of which is an asset to the nation as a whole.

Let the government pave and sewer (for mere health precaution) our small towns and—intime—provide power and light utilities for them. Any community so helped will prosper so greatly that it will be able to replace the facilities when the time for replacement arrives.

"THAT REMINDS ME—"

The ingenious but unconvincing proofs that Mr. Tumulty has used in his book to controvert many charges brought against former President Wilson in his conduct of the war and the peace negotiations, reminds us of a little story.

A man under the influence of liquor walked into a strange house, and, accosting the first person he met, the following dialogue took place:

"Shay, did you shee me come in?"

"Yes."

"Did you ever shee me before?"

"No."

"Well, then, how did you know it was me?"

We knew it! The president wrote his message with a lead pencil. What difference does it make to an editor-president if there are a regiment of handsome, expert typewriters around? When an editor writes he wants to think, and scratch out commonplace phrases that first come to mind in favor of better phrases. There may be editors who dash off their editorials—and messages to congress, too!—on typewriters, but those of the breed that belong to the age that Harding grew up in, still write with pencil, and scratch out the commonplace with good, black lead, to their heart's content.

LOCAL SCHOOLS TO ASSIST IN THE SALE OF SEALS

County and City Schools Are Visited
In the Interest of Red Cross
Seal Sales.

Miss Luella M. Eerion, the county nurse, has visited nearly all the schools in the county in the interest of the sale of Christmas seals. It is believed the sale will reach a great degree of success in the county.

The sale of these seals will begin in the Maysville schools this week. In view of the great good accomplished by the State Tuberculosis Association from the proceeds of these sales, it is hoped a generous response will be made.

The local Health Department also shares in the benefit derived from the sale of Christmas stamps. Many of its activities will be curtailed or even stopped if the full allotment of seals are not sold.

The communities in Kentucky which are making the most rapid progress in saving children and preserving health are those which have public health nurses and all time health departments. In most of these communities the public health nurse is financed by an organization known as the Health League, and these leagues have found the easiest way to secure funds which support the nurses by the sale of the double barred Tuberculosis Christmas seal. These little seals carry a tremendous message, and every man, woman or child who purchases them becomes a stockholder for better conditions in health. School children are good salesmen for these little seals, because they carry their own appeal for better health conditions, and these little missionaries can get to the hearts of men and women when they come to them asking their real help.

"I saw him do it," Fenner said, "I waited 12 years until I came of age so I could prosecute him myself."

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — Women of the stage have long been looked upon as wicked especially by those harbored, pampered individuals who have never been thrown into a phase of life demanding utter frankness and a strength of character, not given to everyone, to combat that indefinable borderland of emotion and action between frankness and abandon. But through many actresses continue virtuous despite the environment, more or less lax, of the theater, it is not often that they go to such extremes as occurred in New York last week. A young girl who was playing the part of a Parisian-bred woman, which we may imagine called for risqué language and ultra-modern dress and actions, gave notice to the manager that she was cancelling her contract because it was a case of doing so or renouncing her church affiliations. Wouldn't you like to see this girl, in the rouge, décolletage and mannerisms incidental to her stage work, transplanted to the midst of a safer-clad, solemn congregation? And yet the heart of her would be the same as demonstrated by her renunciation bank. But it occurred to me that the very naivete might get it by.

—NY—

Theodore Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, has been in town recently, shopping. This pleasure is only incidental to carrying out the well-known tradition of his illustrious father. It was the custom of the late President, which he started about 25 years ago, to play Santa Claus to the children of the Oyster Bay schools. The little tots wrote letters to Santa, which under instruction were turned over by the postmaster to him and Mrs. Roosevelt. They would then supply the gifts and the Colonel himself appear in the role of Santa Claus. There are the things which hold him in our hearts and well may his promising son perpetuate such charm and humaneness.

—NY—

Anyone ever about a theater must feel the profound respect and homage due the stage doorman. Next to the scene shifter and electrician he is the most important single figure in the structure. Were he not as adamant as Gibraltar the final rehearsals of any performance would find the house without standing room even, so insistent are friends of friends of the show to see the show before the regular public. The average stage doorman's reminiscences are vastly interesting. There is no better known one in New York than Charlie Burgess who has performed his solemn duty for years with great distinction. He has recently issued a hroll of honor. It is most significant. I enjoy publishing it: "Best play he ever saw. The Music Master; best actress he ever saw: Blanche Bates; best actor he ever saw: John Mason; most beautiful actress he ever saw: Jane Cowl; most liberal actress he ever knew: Jane Cowl; actress that gets the most mail: Marjorie Rambeau; actor that gets the most mail: John Barrymore; hardest working author at rehearsals: Eugene Wakter."

—NY—

My artistocrat of the stage is soon to be with us. The woman who walks, talks and breathes as only a lady can, no matter what her role may be, is due in a play by Zoe Atkins, known as the "Varying Short." Elsie Ferguson is to have a part totally unlike anything she has yet portrayed. Yet every one knows how she will play it. A curious thing about this piece is that the order of the action is completely reversed; the play opens with the leading lady in the last years of her life and through the succeeding acts one is carried back through her career. This novelty and the amazing aptitude of Miss Atkins for writing intriguing plays, makes yet another event in the midst of a busy theatrical year.

—NY—

Folks in this town are greatly given to what the English call "Side." The expression means putting on extras which are not a part of us but are done for impressive purposes. For instance, one caterer in New York makes a specialty of sending the most beautiful and luscious tropical fruit conceivable in lovely ornamental bowls to the house of people who are entertaining. He does it on a pure gamble. The hostess does not expect the fruit to be eaten. It would be quite like cutting a rose out of an attractive canvass, so perfect is the picture made by the collection of fruit. If, however, some very grasping guest should nib-

ADDITIONAL WORK ON HOSPITALS PLANNED

Treasury Department Will Greatly Help Out In Present Unemployment Situation.

After receiving an outline of the serious unemployment situation throughout the United States from experts representing the President's Conference on Unemployment, Col. Edward Clifford, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, sent word to Col. Arthur Woods, Chairman of the Committee on Civic and Emergency Measures, that the Treasury Department would immediately undertake additional construction work to the extent of $14,762,000, on various hospitals authorized out of departmental funds.

Some $2,500,000 will be spent on three hospitals at soldiers' homes in Milwaukee, Wis., Dayton, O., and Marion, Ind. Other of the larger hospitals on which work will be begun at once as a further means of relieving local unemployment, are: Tuskegee, Ala., $2,250,000; Palo Alto, Calif., $1,500,000; Pittsburgh, Pa., $1,000,000; New York City, $1,000,000; New York City, remodeling Catholic orphanage, $600,000; St. Louis, Mo., $1,000,000.

The treasury department announced that it would co-operate in every way possible in this hospitalization work, so that the money appropriated by Congress might be made available as quickly as its supervising architect could approve the various plans.

In forty-five counties of the state of Georgia seven out of every ten farms are cultivated by tenants.

WOMEN'S WOES

Maysville Women Are Finding Relief At Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Keeping the kidneys well has spared thousands of women much misery. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that is endorsed by people you know. Mrs. E. L. Cullen, 322 West Second street, Maysville, says: "Three years ago I had an attack of kidney trouble and my back ached continually. I had no ambition to do my housework and everything seemed a drag to me while going about it. I had blinding, dizzy spells and my head ached all the time. My kidneys were not acting regularly and in other ways showed signs of disorder. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I sent to Wood & Son's drug store and got a box. After using them I got over the trouble entirely and have never since been bothered. I willingly recommend this remedy."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Cullen had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

FEEBLE BLOOD WORKS HAVOC

Gude's Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Blood; Liquid and Tablet Form.

When blood becomes thin and weak it is due to a falling off in the number of red blood cells. It is easily recognized by pallid skin or a blemished complexion, loss of appetite or unnatural irritability and a sensation of weakness. It is not dangerous at first. In fact, many people scarcely notice it and go on for days, thinking they will be better the next day.

The great danger is in the possibility of becoming seriously ill from disease, which can work havoc in a body that lacks the endurance and resistance in rich, red blood.

Taken in time and steadily, a few bottles of Gude's Pepto-Mangan are a great help. It improves the quality of the blood by adding red blood cells. They check the weakness, improve the appetite, and clear the complexion.

You can get Gude's Pepto-Mangan in liquid and tablet form at your druggist's. Get the genuine with the name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" on the package.—Advertisement.

WEATHER FORECASTS SAVE LIVES AND PROPERTY

Government Weather Forecasts Prove of Great Benefit Throughout the Nation Every Day.

Washington, D. C.—The importance of weather changes and of the various atmospheric disturbances in the daily life of the people of the country is emphasized by the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture in the annual report recently issued.

The usual weather forecast service, which is familiar to everyone, is continued regular from year to year with certain new phases of weather work which have been developed recently. The increase in aviation is making growing demands for service and advice. There is also a call for data and certification of facts with reference to storm, weather and rain insurance; for reports on the influence of weather upon the public highways; for extensions of its various services in reporting frosts, cold waves, and hurricanes. According to the report, the weather service and advice carry with them an immediate and direct economic benefit in the saving of lives, properties, and foodstuffs for the Nation. Many accidents in aeronautics have resulted directly from lack of sufficient foreknowledge of conditions along the customary air ways. The Weather Bureau is the agency charged by law to perform this new service and a skeleton organization is now in operation.

Hurricanes and violent tropical storms sometimes bring heavy losses and great disasters to shipping on the Gulf and alarm to residents of that whole coast. At such times the Weather Bureau and its field stations are overwhelmed with applications for information. Advice sent out allay the fears of some and quite needless alarm of others, and guide many to make timely escapes in threatened localities or to take precautions to minimize the destructive effects of the storm which can not be escaped. Vessels while still at sea now frequently receive radio warnings days before-hand and are able to shun the zones of storms. Warnings of frosts, cold waves, blizzards, and such weather conditions that are apt to be damaging to foodstuffs in shipment are of immediate money benefit.
